

Owingsville Outlook.

D. S. ESTILL, PUBLISHER.
OWINGSVILLE, KY.

SUBSCRIPTION, $1 YEAR IN ADVANCE.

THURSDAY, JULY 2, 1896.

We have lost so much by unpaid announcements of candidates for political nomination and election that we have made an invariable rule to require the cash in advance for all such announcements inserted in The Outlook.

The identity of all writers of communications for publication in The Outlook must be known to the editors to insure insertion; therefore, sign your real name to what you write for us, else your communication will not be printed. We will not publish the writer's name unless by his consent.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

For Circuit Judge.

Judge R. F. Day, of Mt. Sterling, is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Circuit Judge in the Twenty-first Judicial district, composed of the counties of Bath, Menifee, Montgomery and Rowan.

Judge C. W. Goodpastor, of Owensville, is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Circuit Judge in the Twenty-first Judicial district, composed of the counties of Bath, Menifee, Montgomery and Rowan.

M. S. Tyler, of Mt. Sterling, is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Circuit Judge in this (the 21st) Judicial district.

For Jailer.

We are authorized to announce Samuel T. Jones, of White Oak, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Jailer of Bath county. Election, November, 1897.

John Jackson, of Preston, is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Jailer of Bath Co.

Cabe S. Ratliff, of Bald Eagle, is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Jailer of Bath county.

The silverites lack only votes of forty having enough to nominate by a two-thirds majority at Chicago.

CANADA WENT Democratic last week, but there is not much consolation in it for the Democracy of this nation.

The fool with his or her halberd, continues to tempt fate by fool-hardy feats and spread human remains thinly on the ground.

"We have revolutionized the Democratic party on the currency question," says a silverite at Chicago. Major T. O. Towles, of Missouri.

JAMIE CAMPBELL is not one of the Campbells that are coming in Ohio this year. His dog was neither soon nor emphatic enough for the McLean-Thurman crowd.

THE National Democratic Convention will meet at Chicago next week to make nominations and a platform, and probably also disrupt the old Democratic party.

SENATOR PEEPER says the action of the few Populists at St. Louis in urging Teller's nomination at Chicago was an impertinence and was treacherous to the Populist party. He thinks Populists ought to stand by their own party.

TELLER's name will be duly presented at the Chicago convention for the nomination. Teller is as purely Republican except on the silver issue as any man in that party. The folly of the Greeley nomination is still a vivid memory with the older Democrats.

EXCESSIVE competition has so denuded the newspaper business at Owensboro that the fine Daily Tinsler plant brought only $1,251. At the time of the suspension it was estimated to be worth $10,000 or more. The creditors will expect to the sale.

WHEN questioned concerning the Chicago convention by a reporter in New York, Senator Wm. Lindley, of Kentucky, said: "Well, it strikes me that we are going straight to the devil; but I hope we will round to somewhere before we strike the jumping-off place."

BOSS PLATT, of New York, gave utterance to this last week: "When you can legislate sense into the heads of fools, virtue into the hearts of knaves, and peace into the souls of the restless and unhappy, then, and not till then, will you be able to equalize the conditions in which the human family lives."

W. H. HARVEY, the author of "Coin," wants a coalition of the silverites of all parties. He proposes Bland for President, allowing him to choose his Secretary of State; let the Democrats endorse the Populist nominee for Vice President, say Senator Marion Butler, of South Carolina; give the Republican silverites Teller for Secretary of the Treasury, and two other Cabinet positions. Harvey says the silver cause is desperate and can't defeat McKinley unless the silverites combine. He says: "I tell the Democrats not to make their platform too Democratic. They can't win as Democrats, but as a Democratic-Populist and Silver-Republican party." Those that like that sort of political verbiage would take it.

THE Outlook acknowledges receipt of a copy of the special illustrated edition of the Cynthiana Democrat. It contains twenty-four five-column pages, printed on calendered paper, and has "pictures all over it." It is sold at ten cents per copy postpaid. The publication of such a handsome and costly edition by a country newspaper office is a piece of enterprise worthy of the highest praise, and doubtless is duly appreciated by the people of Cynthiana and Harrison county. All the more prominent people, officers, women society leaders, pretty girls, handsome children, fine buildings and street scenes of the city are pictured in fine half-tones, which are interesting to everybody, while the text is by Editor J. M. Allen, who is one of the very brightest, sanest rural roosters in the State, and who adorns everything in the editorial line that he puts his pen to.

THE Committee formally notified McKinley of his nomination, and he formally accepted it and expressed his unqualified approval of the platform. In his speech, as expected, he gave foremost importance to the protection issue. He practically says to the people: "You are mistaken about the money being the paramount issue. A protective and prohibitory tariff that taxes the people for extravagant expenditures and gives an indirect bounty of hundreds of millions to the tariff barons will cause the maintenance of the value of all our money, secure the inviolability of the money standard, and preserve the faith and honor of the nation abroad." If Mack's heels knock out the stars in the zenith next November he will have himself to blame for it. Mack's ignoring an issue may not cause the issue to be ignored by the voters.

Mr. Davis and Greenbacks. (St. Louis Globe-Democrat.)

Twenty years ago the late Jeff Davis made a visit to Missouri, which is still remembered by many. The train upon which he was traveling stopped at De Soto, on the Iron Mountain road, for dinner. There was a Greenback convention in session there. A crowd collected at the depot to do honor to the distinguished visitor, who was easily persuaded to make a short speech. "How about greenbacks?" shouted somebody in the gathering. "Well," said Mr. Davis, "if you want scrip to trade with among yourselves, you can issue county scrip or township scrip—it will be good enough as long as you have faith in it. But if you want to do business with the world at large you must use the only currency that is recognized by all the nations of the earth, and that is gold coin." The greenback craze was then as wild as the silver craze is now, and the few words of the ex-federate chieftain had as much sense in them as they would have if uttered now.

Democratic on Principle. (Louisville Post.)

As to our Democracy, that is of the least importance. If it meant anything, the editor of the Evening Post could trace his Democracy genealogically back to the days of Jackson, and bring it down to the present without a break. But it is not worth while.

WE PRACH DEMOCRACY BECAUSE WE BELIEVE IN LIBERTY OF CONSCIENCE, IN PERSONAL FREEDOM, IN FREEDOM FOR MERCHANTS AS WELL AS FOR PRIESTS, AND BECAUSE WE HOLD ALL GOVERNMENT TO BE ONLY A MODIFIED EVIL, AND A DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT THE MOST TOLERABLE, THOUGH NOT IN ITSELF ADMIRABLE.

We support the party without asking the party to support us, because we believe it to be the best means by which to secure freedom of speech, local independence, freedom to trade, sailors' rights, a stable currency and unvarying weights and measures.

When the silverites capture the old ship of Zion and raise the devil's flag, or when the Populists capture it and raise a flag of their own, we shall strive to save the ship, but we do not promise to stay on it. Under another flag, on another course, or with another pilot at the helm, it has no claim on us.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Olympia. Rev. A. K. Mattingly earnestly solicits the responses to the call from his Bath county correspondents to whom he has not recently written, or at least to learn of their exit from accessible mail routes.

Forge Hill. Aunt Polly Goodpastor is very ill. James Whittington is worse, not expected to live.

Those from here that attended the Masonic dinner at Salt Lick were Lena Ragland and sister Anna and Miss Carrie Scott.

Thos. D. Anderson's little girl went to let the chickens out of the coop last Sunday morning and found a large snake in the coop. It had swallowed a chicken large enough to fry and could not get back out of the hole it went in at.

Mr. A. said it had killed the remainder of the chickens, as they were all dead. Mr. A. said he killed the snake and he measured 5 ft. 8 inches in length.

Moore's Ferry. There will be a good oats crop in this locality.

B. B. Cristy is working at Farmers at the carpenter's trade.

We are having nice growing weather, with alternate showers.

Mrs. Parthena Shroat, of near here, visited friends and relatives near Olympia the past week.

Several people from this vicinity visited the Masonic celebration of St. John's day at Salt Lick on the 24th.

W. R. Stephens, of Salt Lick, made a short visit to this city the 25th. He says he is a Populist. We are all on the opposite side.

Mrs. J. M. Cassidy, Fielding Green, Jack Williams and others, of Upper Licking, were called to the bedside of their sick brother, Joseph Williams, the past week.

We understand that the trustees of this school district have engaged Mrs. Mattie Ingram, of Emporia, Kansas, to teach our school, as we have got no teachers in this county.

THE SICK.—Miss Anna B. Snedegar gradually grows weaker. Mrs. James McDonald is about the same as last week. Andrew Nester is able to go visiting. Joseph Williams is very poorly. If he doesn't take a turn for the better soon he can't last many days. Drs. Lewis and Pierce are the attending physicians.

Upper Prickly Ash. C. H. Carr, of Montgomery county, was here Saturday and Sunday.

Daniel Harper and wife visited friends at Stepstone one day last week.

Miss Mary Reynolds, of Owensville, is in the neighborhood visiting friends.

Wm. Peters, Jr., and wife, of Bethel, were guests of Ed Gregory and wife Sunday.

Nathaniel Markland and wife visited at George Jackson's, near Olympia, Sunday.

Daniel Harper and wife visited their daughter, Mrs. Cabe Ratliff, on Bald Eagle, Sunday.

Putnam Burns and wife, of Lexington, visited his mother, Mrs. M. A. Burns, Saturday and Sunday.

Odessa. Joseph R. Jones, of Mason Co., is the guest of friends here this week. O. S. Rodgers bought Toll Whaley's crop of tobacco last Saturday at 40 per lb.

Miss Oddie Powers has been visiting friends and relatives on Flat Creek last and this week.

There was a small crowd at White Oak Sunday, on account of Children's day at Fairview.

A great many of the young folks attended Children's day at Fairview last Sunday from this neighborhood.

Jno. Bradley, Michael Hedrick and Jno. W. Darnell appraised the property of I. N. Anderson, decd., last Wednesday.

We have had several very hard rains within the last week, doing great damage to the crops.

Wheat harvest is at hand, but the wet weather is keeping the farmers from cutting much.

The two-weeks' meeting at the Christian Church closed Friday night, with several additions.

Miss Nola May McGray, who has been attending the meeting here, is sick at Jno. Robinson's.

Mrs. C. W. Durham has returned from London, Ky., where she went as delegate to the W. M. meeting.

Miss Nellie Ryan, who had been visiting her grandparents, has returned to her home at Reynoldsville.

East Fork of Flat Creek. Harvest is about over. Some wheat was very good, and some was no good.

Geo. Emmons informed your correspondent that Uncle Will Lyman was either dead or married; he left home one month ago and has not been heard from since.

The free-turnpike evening express came in from Reynoldsville loaded down by its utmost capacity. Geo. Markwell was conductor and Capt. John Summerfield was engineer. John said he would rather run a free-turnpike engine than to kill rats or tree coons.

Children's day came off Sunday of last week at Fairview Church, and it was a thorough success. It was conducted by Bros. Boots and Wood. Both are worthy ministers. Several of the children gave beautiful recitations. Two of the best pieces were given by Misses Annie and Borth Copher. There was a large congregation in attendance.

Thos. D. Anderson's little girl went to let the chickens out of the coop last Sunday morning and found a large snake in the coop. It had swallowed a chicken large enough to fry and could not get back out of the hole it went in at.

Mr. A. said it had killed the remainder of the chickens, as they were all dead. Mr. A. said he killed the snake and he measured 5 ft. 8 inches in length.

A great many of the young folks attended Children's day at Fairview last Sunday from this neighborhood.

Geo. W. Boyd, who has been rector on the sick list all spring and summer, is convalescent, though he says he is nearly worried to death over some of his friends, who, he says, are going crazy over the financial issue and kitchen cabinets.

THE SICK.—Mrs. T. L. Jones is better. Mrs. Warren W. Bailey is quite sick and has been for the past two weeks. Miss Sallie Dealey is worse. Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Moreland are able to visit friends. They and J. T. Gudgell and wife visited the family of W. S. Estill Sunday and before partaking of an excellent dinner they all had themselves weighed. After dinner they all felt like they had been weighed too light, so they all weighed again, but weighed all of them in the same notch except Mr. Moreland, who weighed a shade lighter and J. T. Gudgell, who tipped the scale with a gain of three lbs.

Knob Lick. Fine growing showers. The sick are all getting on fairly well.

The oats crop will be the best for years.

There is not much trade going on. There are a few lambs and hogs for sale hereabouts.

John P. Collier, of Plummer's Landing, passed here one day last week on his way to his farm in Montgomery Co. to sell his tobacco.

Several from Salt Lick attended Fiscal Court Saturday in the interest of the turnpike from Salt Lick to intersect the Menifee county road. The county as understood, they proposed to build and own the road, which is a good idea, better than free turnpikes. It is a little Populist, though none the worse for that, as time will prove.

B. B. Bigstaff gave us a pleasant one day last week. Whilst Ben is not climbing high the ladder of fame as he is laying deep the foundation for a structure that is more enduring than all the fabrics of fame reached by human hands, and will be remembered by the little ones long after he has passed into the great beyond; and their children and children's children will rise up and call him blest.

I see the Republican platform criticizes the Democratic administration for issuing $262,000,000 of interest-bearing bonds, but has no word of condemnation for the big Republican Congress just adjourned, which granted free authority for the nefarious work and its failure to pass the bill to prohibit bonds without authority of Congress. Get out of the gold-bug Republican party is my advice to those that want better times. The Populist members of Congress have a record in favor of free silver at the time a Democratic House and a Democratic Senate repealed the silver-purchase law, which was signed by a Democratic President. All the Populist Congressmen and Senators have voted on all occasions for free silver on a ratio of 16 to 1. The only genuine-free-silver party in the United States is the People's party, and it has no record of broken promises.

Sharpsburg. T. J. Allen and C. W. Peters spent last week at Olympian Springs.

John Williams and wife are visiting relatives and friends in Fleming this week.

Miss Lizzie Badger, of Jellico, Tenn., was the guest of Mrs. W. H. Ratliff last week.

W. O. Triplett and Chas. Eicher visited friends in Fleming Co. Saturday and Sunday.

C. B. Morford and wife, of Brooksville, visited the latter part of the week, Mrs. Anna Kincer, last week.

Miss Rosa Dee Allen returned Saturday from a protracted visit to friends and relatives at Millersburg.

Miss Anna B. Hart returned home Thursday from Kansas, where she had been visiting for several months.

William Boyd and wife, of Montgomery Co., and Ben McMichael, of Frankfort, were visiting at C. C. Boyd's on Thursday.

Robert Brown left on Sunday last for Henry county in the interest of the Standard Cabinet Co. Success to you, Robert.

Miss Rhoda Phelps returned the first of last week from Winchester, but was called back on Wednesday by the relapse of her aunt, Mrs. Rachel Vivian, who died on Thursday night.

D. S. Trumbo, of Bethel, spent last Sunday week with friends here, and in company with his wife, who had been visiting relatives here for the last week, returned home Sunday evening.

Bert Van Evers, who is in charge of the stable of trotters of J. R. Bascom and son, moved them last Monday to Oak View track near Mt. Sterling. They have some good ones in their string.

Elders Pearl and Hanson, of the church of Latter-Day Saints, were here last week, and failing to get any place to preach, left on Thursday, after distributing their tracts from house to house, and telling the country people that they would preach three nights in Sharpsburg, viz.: Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights, but hear of no one being badly disappointed.

STATE NEWS. Winchester and Clark county have voted local option.

W. H. Steers got twenty-one years for the murder of Jack Alexander, at Paris.

Col. Bob Kelly is spoken of as the Republican Majority candidate in Louisville next November.

Miss Sallie Alexander, aged 56, of Harrison county, hanged herself at the Lexington Insane Asylum.

The Court of Appeals decides that a Mayor's election must be held again in Louisville in November.

Immense quantities of peaches are pouring into the market. They sell at 25 cents per bushel and upwards.

Some of the Cleveland team of League base-ball players were heavily fined in Louisville for rudeness in the game.

The Democratic State Central Committee of Ky. will meet July 15th to reorganize all the committees in the State.

The friends of Blackburn were notified to meet at Chicago July 1 in the interest of his candidacy for the Presidential nomination.

The appeals of Jackson and Walling for new trials are both in the Court of Appeals, which will not meet again until September.

The burning of the Knox county Court-house, at Barbourville, is likely to cause a sensation when State Inspector Lester makes his report.

As a result of a family quarrel, near Richmond, Charles Golden shot away his brother Richard's jaw and tried to kill himself by throat-cutting.

The custom of treating certain convicts at the Frankfort pen. as "favorites" has become such a nuisance that the people of that city are protesting against it.

John Beard, ex-Policeman and ex-Tax Collector of Nicholasville, is short about $3,000 in his accounts with his town and has disappeared. A bad case is alleged against him.

The Ky. Press Association held its annual meeting at Georgetown last week, and many of its members afterward made a pleasure trip to Cumberland Island, off the coast of Georgia.

At Harlan, John Pace, Irvin Cornett and Harrison Cornett, who killed George Dean and Wm. Stewart, and wounded David Eldridge, were held in default of $6,000 bail at their examining trial.

Jo A. Parker, Ky. State Central Populist Chairman, thinks that under no circumstances will the Populists support the Chicago silverite nominee. He favors all varieties of all sorts lining up behind the genuine Populist bandwagon.

There are rumors of a row among the Republican leaders in Kentucky. It is alleged that the "original McKinley men" are going to form a campaign organization and handle the McKinley money, leaving the Bradley folks to suck their thumbs.

John W. Langley, after a long contention, defeated Rev. N. T. Hopkins for the Republican nomination in the 10th Congressional district. The feeling was so high that some of the Republican leaders have concluded the Democratic nominee would win without much trouble.

Edwin H. Boone, of Paris, and "Prof." Arthur, a student from one of the big Eastern colleges, are to have a contest in Louisville to decide which is the best hypnotist, and entitled to the credit of the name "Bleu Phenomenon." Arthur "lows how he'll 'make a monkey' of Boone.

A party of 200 Confederate Veterans from Missouri, on their way to the Richmond Reunion, stopped at Lexington and Mt. Sterling Sunday and were given a cordial reception at each place. They were accompanied by Gen. Jo Shelby, his daughter, Miss Nannie, and her maids of honor.

Mayor Todd, of Louisville, is after stirring up the gay games, the inmates of the gilded houses of resort and other sorts of attractive wickedness, but the Police Chief tells him that evidence can't be drawn from witnesses to indict those responsible for that state affair, as he has faithfully tried it.

Judge W. W. Kimbrough, of Cynthiana, received a renomination in the Democratic primaries of the 18th Judicial district, by 800 plurality. John P. Norvell, of Carlisle, and J. T. Simon, of Cynthiana, were his competitors. L. P. Fryer, of Pendleton, defeated John Morgan for the Commonwealth's Attorney nomination.

At Kuttawa, Western Ky., 8 months ago Town Marshal McCallum arrested Mrs. Berryman for resisting him in the discharge of his duty. The woman dropped dead at the jail from heart disease and excitement. Last week Mrs. Berryman's daughter, Mrs. Lem Johns, sent her child to tell McCallum that a man wanted to see him in the cemetery. When McCallum arrived at the cemetery Mrs. Johns returned from behind a grave-stone with a pistol pointed at him. McCallum drew his gun quickly and fired, killing the woman instantly.

Col. Wilbur R. Smith, the business manager of the Lexington, will it is thought, oppose Geo. Donny, McKinleyite, for the Republican Congressional nomination in the 7th district. Smith is a Bradleyite and a member of the Governor's staff. There are several candidates for the Democratic nomination, among them being Col. W. C. P. Breckinridge, Hon. W. C. Owens, Evan Settle, James Andrew Scott and Col. John O. Hodges. Breckinridge is a sound money man, Owens a flopped mill silverite, and the balance rampant silverites.

State Examiner C. W. Lester will recommend the impeachment of Judge John S. Patton, of the 24th Circuit Judicial district, his investigation having disclosed that Patton, who was elected Judge in November, 1893, has been on the bench since September, 1894; that he has been on a protracted spree since his election and was for that reason incapacitated for the office that the Knott county grand jury in September, 1894, indicted Patton for being drunk while sitting as Judge, but that the authorities have been unable since to get a process served.

At Barbourville, Hon. W. J. Canfield, Deputy Revenue Collector, went to take a train about a mile away, leaving his daughter, Miss Rosa, and J. H. Byrley in charge of the office. For fun Mr. Byrley had Miss Rosa to get in the vault. Unintentionally the combination was turned and the young lady made a prisoner in the suffocating safe. Mr. Canfield was the only one who knew the combination and he was hurriedly sent for and secured just as he was about to leave on the train. When the young lady was taken out, after fifteen minutes confinement, she was unconscious, but recovered.
